1. (Twice Amended) A method for producing a biomaterial fused onto a tissue substrate comprising:

providing a layer of said biomaterial consisting essentially of tropoelastin having a first and second outer major surface and a tissue substrate having a first and second outer major surface; and applying an energy absorbing material, which is energy absorptive within a predetermined range of light wavelengths, to a selected one of said first and second outer surfaces of the biomaterial in an amount which will cause fusing together of one of said first and second outer surfaces of the biomaterial and one of said first and second outer surfaces of said tissue substrate, said energy absorbing material penetrating into the interstices of said biomaterial;

irradiating the energy absorbing material with light energy in said predetermined
